

SILVER JUBILEE DAY: TUESDAY, 7th JUNE 1977

The Carnival Parade of floats, prams, bikes, trailers and walkers in fancy dress made a grand tour round the village. First prize for the best decorated float went to the WI pictured here in Grange Park. The Queen: Sheila Side. The Duke of Edinburgh: Mike McKinley. The Queen Mother: Mary Furness. Attendants: Hanny Nicholson, Claire McKinley, Margaret Clifford, Carol Thatcher and Ivy Ray, all wearing costumes made by Sheila Side.

Colin Mead, landlord of the Red Lion, demonstrates his sense of fun!

Patsy Gilroy, the Steeple Aston Jubilee Queen.

The Youth Club's float, "The Horton Hospital, 25 years of patient waiting" was the runner up.

Special mention was made of the North Aston Boys Football float. The children made masks in their Sunday School classes and became the occupants of Noah's Ark.
